

Cradle to Cradle Certified™ Guardian Glass Europe products

The Cradle to Cradle Certified™ Product Standard is a globally-recognised methodology used to constantly evaluate the sustainable attributes of products, and a tool for the glass industry's response to the circular economy challenge.

Assessment categories

C2C certification is awarded based upon achievement measured in five core categories:

Bronze certification across three Guardian product ranges

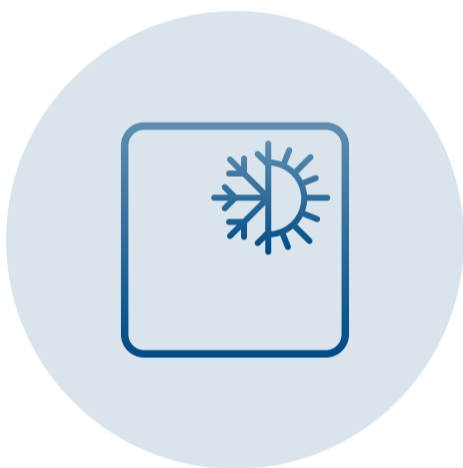

Following our success across these five critical areas, three of our product ranges have been awarded C2C bronze certification level.

These are

Float Glass

Coated Glass

Laminated Glass

Our certified products are manufactured across our eight European plants

The advantages of building with C2C certified products

The Cradle to Cradle Building Charter encourages architects and designers to create positive impacts and beneficial footprints from the very beginning of their project.

A growing number of brands, organisations and sustainability standards such as LEED and BREEAM recognise the Cradle to Cradle Certified™ Product Standard as a preferred product designation for making more responsible purchasing decisions.
